REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE PUBLICATION OF NORTH ATLANTIC PASSENGER ROUTES

NOVEMBER 3, 1936.

To Owners, Operating Agents, and Masters of Passenger Vessels of the United States, Collectors of Customs, Officers of the Coast Guard, and Others Concerned:

Sections 3 and 4 of the Act entitled "An Act to promote safety at sea in the neighborhood of ice and derelicts, and for other purposes", approved June 25, 1936,¹ provide as follows:

Sec. 3. (a) The owner, or operating agent, of any passenger vessel of the United States, crossing the North Atlantic Ocean shall give public notice, in such manner as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, of the regular routes which he proposes such vessel will follow and of any changes made in a route, and shall require the vessel to follow the published route as far as circumstances will permit. Any passenger vessel of the United States crossing the North Atlantic Ocean shall follow, as far as circumstances will permit, the recognized ship routes; it shall avoid, as far as practicable, the fishing banks of Newfoundland, north of latitude forty-three degrees north during the fishing season; and shall, as far as circumstances will permit, pass outside of the regions reported or known to be endangered by ice.

(b) If the owner, or operating agent, of any such passenger vessel fails to comply with this section, he shall for each offense be liable to a fine not exceeding $100.

Sec. 4. (a) The master of every vessel of the United States, when ice is reported on or near his course, shall proceed at a moderate speed or alter his course so as to go well clear of the danger zone.

(b) If the master of any such ship fails to comply with this section, he shall for each offense be liable to a fine not exceeding $500.

Pursuant to the foregoing section 3, and the authority conferred by section 161 of the Revised Statutes (U. S. C., 1934 ed., title 5, sec. 22), the following regulations are hereby prescribed:

1. (a) The owner or operating agent of any passenger vessel of the United States crossing the North Atlantic Ocean shall file with the collector of customs of the United States home port of such vessel, as defined in article 32, Customs Regulations of 1931, and, if the first United States port from which such vessel sails is different from the home port, with the collector of customs at that port, notice of the ship routes which he proposes such vessel will follow on its east-bound and west-bound crossings. Such notice or notices shall be filed prior to the first sailing of the vessel from a port of the United States after the effective date of these regulations. Upon any subsequent North Atlantic voyage of such vessel beginning at the same port in the United States, no further notice shall be required if it is proposed that the vessel will follow the same routes, but whenever it is proposed that such vessel, when crossing the North Atlantic Ocean, will sail from a port in the United States other than that specified in the last previous notice, or will follow a route or routes different from the route or routes specified in such last notice, notice of the proposed route or routes shall be filed, as aforesaid, before the vessel sails.

(b) The proposed route of any passenger vessel of the United States crossing the North Atlantic Ocean shall, whenever practicable, be designated in any notice required hereby in the terms used to designate the North Atlantic Lane Routes, as established by the proper authorities.

(c) All notices of proposed ship routes filed with collectors of customs shall be considered public documents and copies thereof shall, while effective, be continuously posted by the respective collectors of customs in a place in the customhouse to which the public has free access.

(d) The owner or operating agent of any passenger vessel of the United States crossing the North Atlantic Ocean shall cause a copy of the proposed ship routes of the vessel to be continuously posted, while effective, in a public place in the passenger space of the vessel.

2. If the master of any passenger vessel of the United States crossing the North Atlantic Ocean finds it necessary for any reason during the course of a voyage to deviate more than 20 nautical miles from the proposed ship route of such vessel, he shall be required by the owner or operating agent of such vessel, as soon as he arrives in the United States, to report such deviation to the collector of customs of the home port of such vessel and, if the first United States port from which such vessel sailed is different from the home port, to the collector of customs at that port, together with a written statement explaining the necessity for such deviation.

3. For the purpose of these regulations, a vessel shall be deemed to be a passenger vessel if it carries more than twelve passengers.

4. Each violation of any provision of these regulations by the owner, operating agent or master of a passenger vessel shall be penalized by a fine of not exceeding $100, for which the owner, or operating agent, of the passenger vessel involved in such violation shall be liable.

5. (a) Information with respect to a violation or possible violation of these regulations coming into the possession of any officer or employee of the Treasury Department shall be communicated promptly to the commander of the coast guard division within which the home port of the vessel is located.

(b) The commander receiving such information, from this or from any other source, shall make an investigation to determine the actual facts involved and, if he is of the opinion that a violation occurred, shall submit a full written report, citing the paragraph of these regulations believed to have been violated, to the collector of customs of the home port of the vessel. Such report shall be made in quadruplicate; the original and one copy to be forwarded to the collector of customs, one copy to be transmitted to the Commandant, United States Coast Guard, Washington, D. C., and the remaining copy to be retained.

(c) If the commander is in doubt as to whether, in view of the facts involved, a violation of these regulations has occurred, he shall obtain a decision from the Commandant, United States Coast Guard, Washington, D. C., before submission of the report herein required to the collector of customs.

6. The collector of customs receiving such report of violation shall send a written notice of the imposition of the $100 fine to the owner, or operating agent, of the passenger vessel involved in such violation, with a demand for the payment thereof. If the fine is not paid promptly, a copy of the report received from the commandant, together with the originals of all correspondence received from the owner or operating agent of the vessel and certified copies of all communications sent by the collector of customs to such owner or operating agent, shall be transmitted to the United States Attorney.

7. Fines collected by collectors of customs under these regulations shall be deposited in the Treasury to the credit of "Miscellaneous Receipts (Fines and Penalties, Coast Guard)."

8. These regulations shall be effective on and after the fifteenth day following their publication in the weekly Treasury Decisions.
